GREAT OUTPOURING.

A BIG DAY FOR AUGUSTA COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

THE GATHERING IN STAUNTON.

Flourney, McIlwaine, and Harry Tacker Make Speeches-An Enthusiastic Crowd and Convincing Arguments-Meetings Elsewhere.

STAUNTON, VA., September 28.-(Speciak)-There was an outpouring of people here to-day, court-day, and oratory was heard on every hand, from rostrum and from numberless groups on the streets and on the court green, for the people themselves are all speakers now. The Bryan and Flood people were in high feather and enthusiastically cheered their candidates' names. Your correspondent sees no cessation in the surging tide of the silver movement. At noon the Bryan and Flood crowd took the court-house, the McKinleyites speaking from the courthouse steps.

FLOURNOY SPEAKS. Introduced by County-Chairman Edward Echols in a speech ringing with enthuslasm, Judge Henry W. Flournoy, of Richmond, made a masterly speech of an hour's length, in which he thrillingly told hour's length, in which he thrillingly that tale of the rulnous ravage of the single-standard, gold-bug policy, and eloquently portrayed the relief to the people that would come with the beneficent bimetallic policy of gold and silver at 16 to 1. The speaker sandwiched his logic with numerous apt anecdotes admirably told.

M'ILWAINE.

Judge Flournoy was followed by Hon.
W. B. Mcliwaine, of Petersburg. Mr.
Mcliwaine plainly traced the successive stages of the assault on silver, elinching his point with strong iteration of authority, and proved himself handsomely equipped with fact and figure to uphold the cause of Bryan, silver, and the people.
Mr. Mcliwaine eloquently urged his audience to uphold Bryan's election, and made a foreible and eulogistic appeal for Hon.
H. D. Flood, the district nominee for Congress. M'ILWAINE. HARRY TUCKER.

HARRY TUCKER.

Hon. St. George Tucker spoke briefly, saying that Bryan, who had stood shoulder to shoulder with him in Congress in his successful efforts to defeat the force bill, should receive the support of this people, and urged Democratic unity and supremacy.

The McKinleylies were addressed by Mr. Edgar Allan, Mr. Turner K. Hackman, and Mr. Heborker, of Staunton, who spoke to an audience of loud lung and

SEVERELY CRITICISED.

Rev. Tom Dixon's Eastern Shore Campaign. ONANCOCK, VA., September 28.-(Special.)-The Rev. Tom Dixon, the sensational and erratic preacher, who during the past week has been making speeches on the Eastern Shore in the interest of the Republican party, is severely criticised by all well-informed and verely criticised by all well-informed and conservative Democrats, who have lis-tened to his abusive and misleading distribes against the Democratic party. So grossly erroneous were many of the statements made by him in his recent speech here, that he would have been called down on the spet but for the faccalled down on the spot but for the fact that several ladles were in the hail, and their presence shielded this new-born advocate of the Republican principles from exposure and denunciation. Among the many misleading statements made by him, he declared that the same coinage laws are now on the statute books as when Harrison was President, and that the amount of money in circulation in a country had nothing to do with the prices of products in that country, and to prove this latter proposition, he and that the per-capita circulation in same. A well-informed gentleman here took the trouble the next day to look up the matter in the Tribune Almanac for 1895, and found that France has a per-capita circulation of $56.76; Switzerland $18.65; and Greece $20.68. The only result of Dixon's fairs statistics and coarse and unjust abuse of the Democratic party in his recent speech here was to cause one man to come out from the Re-publican Aid Society and to declare for Brean and others are expected to follow his example. For the last week the bolters here have not been so active and riggressive as heretofore, and it is be lieved that they will go all to pieces be EAST RADFORD, VA., September 28.-(Special.)-Tyler's Opera-House was filled Saturday night with persons assembled to hear the principles of Democracy discussed, and the enthusiasm of the audience showed clearly that the people are thor-eughly aroused. Judge George E. Casse called the meeting to order, and, in his happy way, introduced Roy B, Smith, of Roanoke, who, in a straightforward and forcible manner, pointed out the dangers that confronted the people, and advised all to be careful how they cast their ballors. After he closed, Hon. W. A. Glasgow, Jr., of Roanoke, was introduced, and for more than an hour held the au-dience by his denunciation of the present nancial policy of the government, and Indianapolis party. THE PLATFORM.

He rapidly analyzed the platforms of both parties, and showed that the Demo-cratic platform was Democratic in every plank. His speech was received with loud plant. Its speech of the completely captivated his audience. The speech of Mr. Glasgow was the strongest that has been heard here this campaign, and many compliments were bestowed on him when he fin-

JONES IN ACCOMAC. He Speaks to a Tremendous Crowd-Great Enthusiasm.

ACCOMAC COURTHOUSE, VA., September 28.-(Special.)-This has been a great day for the Democrats of Accomac. It was County-Court day, and the crowd present was the largest seen here for the past twenty years. Congressman William A. Jones, who has represented this district since 1890, was on hand to represent the Democrats, Colonel John R. Popham and Mr. DeJarnette, the Republican elector for this district, were present for the Republicans, and ex-Governor Cameron for the Palmer-Buckner combination. It had been expected that a joint discussion would be arranged between Mr. Jones and the Republicans, or between him and Governor Cameron, but the Republican authorities determined to side-track Colonel Popham and Mr. DeJarnette and give the right of way to Colonel Cameron. present was the largest seen here for the Cameron

Dr. Bowdoin, the Democratic county chairman of Accomac, in company with Congressman Jones, called on Mr. Cameron in his room at the hotel to arrange a joint discussion, but Cameron said that his judgment was opposed to a joint discussion, and that he had no proposition to offer. The Democrats thereupon repaired to the court-green, where Mr. Jones proceeded to address a crowd estimated at from one thousand to fifteen hundred enthuslastic Democrats.

Governor Cameron, escorted by some bolting Democrats and the leading Republicans of this county, mounted a platform recently erected by the Republicans in another part of the court-yard, and proceeded to deliver his carefully prepared speech to a crowd of several hundred people, consisting of a few boiting Democrats and the Republican masses of the county, all of whom vigorously applanded the speaker's utterances.

Mr. Jones made one of the most powerful and effective speeches ever heard in this county. He spoke for nearly three hours, and aroused the greatest enthusiasm in the vast assemblage, and when he concluded the crowd gave three rousing cheers for Bryan, Sewall, and Jones. The demonstration here to-day showed that the Democrats of Accomac are sroused as they have not been aroused sheet the days of 1883, when the State was wrested from the Mahone Republican combination.

OTEY'S CANVASS.

He Is Confident of a Big Majority-

Brynn's Chances. ROANOKE, VA., September 28.-(Spe cial.)-Hon. Peter J. Otey, representative in Congress of this, the Sixth District, and Democratic nominee for re-election arrived here this afternoon from Bedford City, where he to-day addressed an immense audience, which was so large that it had to be adjourned from the court-room to the court-house lawn, in order to give the crowd a chance to hear him. He will remain here to-night, and start for Christiansburg in the morning, where for Christiansburg in the morning, where he will deliver an address to the voters of Montgomery county, after which he will return to Lynchburg.

VERY CONFIDENT. When asked as to the prospects of his election, he said they were excellent; that the Republicans would poll a larger vote in this district than at the last conin this district than at the has congressional election; but silver was so strong in the State and district that he would get a much larger plurality than he did two years ago. The candidacy of Duval Radford would not, he said, hurt him any, as most of those who would vote for him (Radford) would otherwise have rotal the straight Republican ticket voted the straight Republican ticket

SURE OF BRYAN. As to the presidential contest, he said Bryan was sure to be elected. He certainly would get 142 electoral votes in the South, and 70 west of the Missouri river, leaving him to get the remaining 12 votes from the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Marying 12 votes from the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, and West Virginia, which were classed as doubtful, but he did not so regard the last two. He said he did not be the company of the com regard the last two. He said he did not think Republican money would have an effect in changing the result in the South for even if some leaders were bought the people were all for free silver, and they could not be purchased. He could not be purchased. He spoke er thusiastically of the outlook in this State and in his district especially, where he had been assured by many who did not vote for him at the last election that they LURAY, VA., September 28,-(Special.)-Hon. James Hay, of Madison, the Democratic nominee for Congress from the Seventh District, and Robert J. After the speaking they were wild with enthusiasm over the way in which he presented the Democratic principles and were high in praise of him. He made a spiendid impression, and if the other counties follow the lead of Bath, Mr. Yost will add a few more years to the long term he has been trying to be our congressman. It was a fine day and a large number of people attended.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 28 .-Special.)-Virginia leads all the States, so far as heard from, in the number of Democratic and Silver clubs, and Mr. Alexander Wedderburn, secretary of the Virginia Silver Organization, has started the scheme of having a State convention of the clubs at either Richmond, Lynchburg, or Staunton, on or about the 20th of October. The idea is a good one, and if carried out will give a fresh impetus to the Bryan and Sewall campaign in Virginla, which will be of great benefit during the closing days of the campaign. The National Convention of Democratic Clubs will be held at St. Louis on the 3d of next month, and the varied, amusing. and instructive programme carried out are at the Hotel Vendome. there could very well be repeated in Richmond, for if the convention is held of course Richmond would be the proper sioned postmaster at Stephens City, course Richmond would be the proper place in which to hold it.

There are on the roll of the secretary of the National Association of Democratic Clubs about 850 clubs, and on Mr. Wedderburn's list about 275 Silver clubs, making in all over 1,160 clubs in the State. A representation of five from each club, with alternates, would draw together a very respectable attendance of the Virginia Democratic club mea, and the Auditorium would be the very place for them to meet. No doubt Senator Daniel would be glad to address the convention; Senator Star service has been established in North Carolina as follows: Balleyville to Terryville, From October I, 1895, change service so as to omit Terryville, and end at Crosby without change in distance. E. Ingalls, of Cincinnati, is carrying on the campaign among his men. It is frequently said: Ingalls will carry West Virginia and old Virginia for us.' The Chesapezke and Ohio is one of the trunk lines that traverse these two States, and this road has a powerful influence, not only with its own men, but with others who, when they get out of a job up in the mountains, will find it hard to get away to any other locality where they can seto any other locality was to any date cure other employment. The railroad cannot only discharge a man there, but can refuse to give him transportation to any other place. A railroad with such a man behind it as Mr. Ingalls can do a great deal of political work. Coercion, and even oppression, cas be practiced along the line of this road with almost impunity, if

So it is that the Republicans speak of Ingalis's carrying West Virginia and old Virginia for them. It is to such deeds of political valor that Mr. Hanna wishes to spur the other great railway magnates of the East."

The Southern railway, running through Virginia and the Carolinas, is reported to Hanna as not doing as much work as it might, and there are other roads which the Republican managers believe could be brought to exert a wider influence than they are doing at present. Their managers will be reminded that the sooner they emulate the brilliant example of M. E. Ingalls in behalf of McKinley the better.'

Information was to-day given to the Democratic Committee that 4,00,000 copies of Representative Linton's speech, attackng the Catholics, had been printed for the Republican Gongressional Committee, of which, it is said, 3,000,000 copies were of which, it is said, 2,00,00 copies were prepared, and had printed upon them a special legend describing the contents of the speech. This is the same document which, it was alleged in the campaign of 1894, the Republican Campaign Committee was circulating, and concerning which Republican-Chairman Babcock at that time entered a vigorous denial, saying that his committee had no connection with "isma" or "factions," and was not engaged in circulating American Protective Association literature.

York Times as follows: "It will be remembered that on June 7th last, William S. Linton, a representative from Michigan, delivered a speech in the House, I which the Catholic Church was assailed upon the ground that it had for year been engaged in pushing Catholic school upon the government, and securing large appropriations for their support. Mr. Linton made a characteristic American Protective Association speech. Here is a sample paragraph, which throws a good deal of light on the present attempt of the Republicans to inflame the minds of voters against Cathelias. Will you not voters against Catholics: Will you not take warning from the past by heeding the protests of great religious denomina-tions; by heeding the resolutions passed by many civic organizations; by heeding the demands of almost the entire population of our country; by declaring that this nefarious system of paying millions of the cease? So long as you continue this system, so long will the religious agitation now sweeping the country continue."
